It is the capital city of Victoria and is rated as the most liveable city in the world for the seventh consecutive year. Melbourne is an exciting place to be an international student. There are many beautiful parks, sunny beaches and a thriving arts and culture that is blended with interesting Australian history.

Study in Australia

Did you know Australia has the third highest number of international students in the world behind only the United Kingdom and the United States despite having a population of only 23 million? This isn't surprising when you consider Australia has seven of the top 100 universities in the world! In fact, with over 22,000 courses across 1,100 institutions, Australia sits above the likes of Germany, the Netherlands and Japan.

These are strong academic credentials, but our institutions are just as highly rated as the cities that house them around the country. Australia has five of the 30 best cities in the world for students based on student nationalities, affordability, quality of life, and employer activity – all important elements for students when choosing the best study destination. With more than A$200 million provided by the Australian Government each year in international scholarships, we're making it easier for you to come and experience the difference an Australian education can make to your future career opportunities.

Do you have a specific study area of interest? There is every chance Australia has you covered, with at least one Australian university in the top 50 worldwide across the study areas of Natural Sciences & Mathematics, Life & Agricultural Sciences, Clinical Medicine & Pharmacy, and Physics.

Given this impressive education pedigree, it's not surprising there are now more than 2.5 million former international students who have gone on to make a difference after studying in Australia. Some of these students are among the world's finest minds. In fact, Australia has produced 15 Nobel prize laureates and every day over 1 billion people around the world rely on Australian discoveries and innovations – including penicillin, IVF, ultrasound, Wi-Fi, the Bionic Ear, cervical cancer vaccine and Black Box Flight Recorders – to make their lives, and the lives of others, better.

Student Orientation Handbook

Australia is recognised as a great place to live - but did you know

Australia also offers a world class education? The Australian education system has produced scientists, designers, educators, entrepreneurs, artists and humanitarians who have changed the world, winning awards from Oscars to Nobel prizes. Their global achievements include the "black box" now on every airplane, the Earth hour initiative, and the invention of Wi-Fi. Australia is proud of the individuals who have studied and worked in Australia (whether they were born here or another country) and gone on to achieve great things and contribute to making the world a better place.

Global Recognition

By studying in Australia, you will receive a qualification that's recognised and sought after around the world. The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) allows students to easily move through the education system here and provides an easy way for countries around the world to recognise your qualification and issue the comparable qualifications for local use.

Quality Assurance

For over 20 years Australia has led the world in putting in place systems and processes to ensure that international students receive the high-quality education they expect. These measures include:

- The Education Services for Overseas Students Framework that includes the (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code 2018 as amended, which sets out the legal framework governing delivery of education to overseas students studying in Australia on a student visa.
- The Tuition Protection Service, which helps you find an alternative course or refund your unspent tuition fees in the rare case that your college (education provider) can't continue to offer your course.
- The Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) is the national regulator for Australia's vocational education and training sector. ASQA regulates courses and training providers to ensure nationally approved quality standards are met.
- Ombudsman organisations that can investigate complaints about problems that international students have with their institutions.
- You can find out more about the legislation and departments and organisations to assist you on the following website:

International students rate Australia highly

The main 2018 survey covers students in Higher Education, Vocational Education and Training, English language institutions and international students in secondary school. The survey found 89 per cent of international students were satisfied or very satisfied with their living and learning experience in Australia.

In 2018, over 10,000 international students who graduated from an Australian university in the last decade were asked about their current employment status and their perceptions of the value of their Australian qualification in the global job market. This report of the survey's findings demonstrates that completing an Australian higher education qualification does make our international students very employable, particularly for those who return home, but also for those who choose to stay longer and gain work experience in Australia.

Your learning environment

By choosing to study in Australia, you are joining hundreds of thousands of students from Australian and all over the world - including many from your home country - who are discovering new friends and opportunities in this beautiful country. You will work closely with classmates, researchers, instructors, and other faculty - collaboration is a key part of our students' successes. In many cases, you can gain practical and hands-on training in the industry in which you are studying. This combination of teamwork, shared learning, and industry focus will provide you with a leading edge for your further studies and career.

Life in Australia

While shared to some extent by many other countries, values and principles have been adapted to Australia's unique setting, shaped and modernised through the settlement in Australia of millions of people from all over the world. Although they may be expressed differently by different people, their meaning remains the same.

Australia's first inhabitants were the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, whose unique culture and traditions are among the oldest in the world. The first migrants were mostly from Britain and Ireland and this Anglo-Celtic heritage has been a significant and continuing influence on Australia's history, culture and political traditions. Subsequent immigration waves have brought people from Africa, Asia, the Americas and Europe, all of whom have made their own unique contributions to Australia and its way of life.

In Australia, people have many freedoms. However, in taking advantage of these freedoms, everyone is required to obey Australia's laws, which have been put in place by democratically elected governments to maintain an orderly, free and safe society.

Fundamental freedom

All Australians are entitled to several fundamental freedoms (within the bounds of the law), including speaking freely and openly, joining associations, holding meetings, worshipping their chosen religions and moving throughout Australia without restrictions.

Student Orientation Handbook

Respect for the equal worth, dignity and freedom of the individual

All Australians are free and equal and are expected to treat each other with dignity and respect. Australians reject the use of violence, intimidation or humiliation as ways of settling conflict in our society.

Commonwealth laws prohibit discrimination based on race, sex, disability and age in a range of areas of public life under the Racial Discrimination Act 1975, Sex Discrimination Act 1984, Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and the Age Discrimination Act 2004. The Australian Human Rights Commission is responsible for handling complaints under these laws.

Freedom of speech

All Australians are free, within the bounds of the law, to say or write what they think about Australian governments or about any other subject or social issue, if they do not endanger people, make false allegations or obstruct the free speech of others.

The same applies to Australian newspapers, radio and television and other forms of media. Australians are free to protest the actions of government and to campaign to change laws. Freedom of speech allows people to express themselves and to discuss ideas. There are laws that protect an individual's good name against false information or lies. There are also laws against inciting hatred against others because of their culture, ethnicity or background.

Freedom of religion and secular government

All Australians are free to follow any religion they choose, so long as its practices do not break any Australian laws. Australians are also free to not follow a religion. Religious intolerance is not acceptable in Australian society. Australia has a secular government – it does not have any official or state religion. Governments treat all citizens as equal regardless of religion.

Religious laws have no legal status in Australia and only those laws enacted by parliament apply, for example, in divorce matters. Some religious or cultural practices, such as bigamy (being married to more than one person at the same time) are against the law in Australia.

Support for parliamentary democracy and the rule of law

Australia is a parliamentary democracy, which means that Australian citizens participate in how the country is governed and how Australian society is represented. Governments are accountable to all Australians. Elected parliaments are the only bodies able to make laws in Australia or delegate the authority to make laws. Everyone in Australia must obey laws established by governments. Equally, all Australians are protected by the rule of law. This means that no-one is exempt from or 'above the law', even people who hold positions of power, like politicians or the police.

Equality under the law

All Australians are equal under the law. This means that nobody should be treated differently from anybody else because of their race, ethnicity or country of origin; because of their age, gender, marital status or disability; or because of their political or religious beliefs. Government agencies and independent courts must treat everyone fairly. Being treated equally means that getting a job or being promoted must be based on a person's skills, ability and experience, not their cultural background or political beliefs. It also means that people cannot be refused service in a shop or hotel or other service facility because of their race, colour, religion, gender or marital status.

Equality of men and women

Men and women have equal rights in Australia. Jobs and professions are open equally to women and men. Men and women can serve in the military and both can also hold positions in government.

Equality of opportunity and a spirit of egalitarianism

Australians value equality of opportunity and what is often called a 'fair go'. This means that what someone achieves in life should be a product of their talents, work and effort rather than their birth or favouritism.

Australians have a spirit of egalitarianism that embraces mutual respect, tolerance and fair play. This does not mean that everyone is the same or that everybody has equal wealth or property. The aim is to ensure there are no formal class distinctions in Australian society.

Peacefulness

Australians are proud of their peaceful society. They believe that change should occur by discussion, peaceful persuasion and the democratic process. They reject violence as a way of changing peoples' minds or the law. In addition to these values, Australians also pursue the public-good and have compassion for those in need. There is a strong community spirit in Australia and Australians seek to enhance and improve the society in which they live.

Many Australians contribute to the community in their daily lives. They may demonstrate this through caring for the environment, lending a hand and working together in times of need in pursuit of the public good. Australia has a strong tradition of 'mateship', where people provide help to others voluntarily, especially those in difficulty. A mate is often a friend but can also be a spouse, partner, brother, sister, daughter or son. A mate can also be a total stranger.

There is also a strong tradition of community service and volunteering. The values outlined above have been promoted and discussed by Australians over many years. They have helped Australia to welcome and integrate successfully millions of people from many ethnic groups and cultural traditions. Australia's cultural diversity is a strength which makes for a dynamic society. Within the framework of Australia's laws, all Australians have the right to express their culture and beliefs. But at the same time, all Australians are asked to make an overriding commitment to Australia – its laws, its values and its people.

Shared values

Although Australia's migrants have come from many different cultural and religious backgrounds, they have successfully settled in Australia and integrated into the broader community. Australia, in turn, has been enriched by the contributions they have made socially, culturally and economically. An important feature of Australian society today is not only the cultural diversity of its people, but the extent to which they are united by an overriding and unifying commitment to Australia.

Australians put aside their individual differences in the interests of living together as neighbours. Within the framework of Australia's laws, all Australians have the right to express their culture and beliefs and to participate freely in Australia's national life. At the same time, everyone is expected to uphold the principles and shared values, as outlined in the introduction, that support Australia's way of life.

Australian society today

One of the defining features of Australian society today is the cultural diversity of its people and the extent to which they are united by an overriding and unifying commitment to Australia. Another defining feature is the egalitarian nature of Australian society. This does not mean that everyone is the same or that everybody has equal wealth or property. It also means that with hard work and commitment, people without high-level connections or influential patrons can succeed.

Within the framework of Australia's laws, all Australians can express their culture and beliefs and to participate freely in Australia's national life. Australia holds firmly to the belief that no-one should be disadvantaged based on their country of birth, cultural heritage, language, gender or religious belief. To maintain a stable, peaceful and prosperous community, Australians of all backgrounds are expected to uphold the shared principles and values that underpin Australian society.

Laws and social customs

Community behaviour in Australia is governed by a combination of formal laws and informal social customs. All people in Australia must obey the nation's laws or face the possibility of criminal and civil prosecution. People are also expected to generally observe Australian social customs, habits and practices even though they are not normally legally binding. Australian laws are made by the Australian Commonwealth, state and territory parliaments. The police have the job of keeping peace and order in the community and to bring people they believe have broken the law before courts of law.

People in their local communities and neighbourhoods also help each other in the event of trouble and report anything unusual or suspicious to the local police station. Australia has a national police force called the Australian Federal Police, which investigates crimes against federal laws including drug trafficking, illegal immigration, crimes against national security and crimes against the environment.

All states of Australia and the Northern Territory have their own police forces, which deal with crimes under state or territory laws. Policing in the Australian Capital Territory is undertaken by the Australian Federal Police. Although police officers may arrest people and give evidence in court, they do not make the final decision on whether people are guilty of crimes. This is decided by the courts. Police and the community have good relations in Australia. You can report crimes and seek assistance from the police. If you are questioned by police, remain calm, be polite and cooperative.

Working in Australia

Students working in Australia should be paid fairly for the work they do and work under reasonable conditions.

Pay rates and workplace conditions are set by Australian law.

The Pay and Conditions Tool \(PACT\) provides information on pay rates, shift calculations, leave arrangements and notice and redundancy entitlements.

The Fair Work Australia can give you further information and advice about your workplace rights and obligations and has workplace information translated into different languages.

Your rights and protections include workplace health and safety matters.

Refer: <https://www.fairwork.gov.au/employee-entitlements>

Your employer cannot cancel your visa.

Only the Department of Home Affairs can grant, refuse or cancel visas. Visa cancellation is not automatic in circumstances where a visa holder has breached their visa conditions. If you are under consideration for visa cancellation, you will have the opportunity to provide reasons as to why your visa should not be cancelled.

Helpful recordkeeping hints when you start working in Australia

Keep a diary of days and hours worked, keep copies or records of employment details, pay slips, agreements, superannuation and tax documents.

NOTE: If you are 'working' by doing housekeeping/cleaning for your food and room, that is still considered by the Department of Immigration as working. The amount you work then is to be deducted from the total 40 hours per fortnight maximum you are allowed to work. You may also be entitled to superannuation payments for this kind of work. If unsure contact the Department of Immigration and Fair work.

Should you have any questions about your pay rate, your work rights and employer responsibilities please visit the following links.

Contact the Fair Work Ombudsman

All visa holders who believe they might have been exploited or underpaid should approach the Fair Work Ombudsman (FWO) through the Fair Work Infoline on 13 13 94 or through their anonymous reporting service.

Overseas student health cover (OSHC)

Overseas student health cover (OSHC) is insurance that provides cover for the costs of medical and hospital care which international students may need while in Australia and is mandatory for international student visa holders for the duration of your studies. OSHC will also cover the cost of emergency ambulance transport and most prescription drugs.

How do I get OSHC?

When applying for your student visa you will be asked to provide evidence of having OSHC for the entire duration of your stay in Australia. You cannot arrive until you have OSHC organised and evidence of the same. If you do not buy your OSHC through the college you must provide evidence of your insurance no later than at Orientation.

Students can also purchase their OSHC through their Education Agent or contact us directly; however evidence will be required during enrolment that students have sufficient cover.

Only Australian health funds that have signed an agreement with the Australian Government can provide OSHC. Most Australian education institutions have a preferred OSHC provider. Depending on the institution you will be attending you will be required to join one of these four registered health funds. You may choose to change your health fund at anytime but will need to abide by the conditions of change of the health fund provider you are leaving.

NIB: <https://www.nib.com.au/overseas-students>

Some students may be exempt from requiring OSHC such as students from countries whose Governments may have Reciprocal Health Agreements for students in Australia.

Note: only some reciprocal health agreements cover students in Australia, some will only cover visitors. You should determine if you are eligible before you apply for your visa to come to Australia.

c) Accommodation

Dalton College does not offer any accommodation services or take any responsibility for accommodation arrangements. However, Dalton College can refer students to the appropriate living services to help any students with accommodation difficulties.

You should already have your accommodation arranged, but, if you need help please talk to a support officer.

Choosing Where to Live

Most students want to live within walking distance of the campus, but this is not always possible and is usually determined by availability and cost. Often it is more convenient and more cost-effective to live further from the campus but closer to shops and public transport.

Whilst studying with the college your accommodation options are locations near Flagstaff Station Melbourne Central and Southern Cross Station

Bringing Family

Most student visas allow you to bring your family members to Australia as your dependants (check your individual circumstances DHA website). Family members include your spouse, and you and your spouse's dependent children. Before bringing your spouse or children to Australia, you will have to prove that you can support them financially. The cost of supporting a family in Australia is high. You may have to consider and discuss many issues with your family.

Issues to Consider

Rather than bringing your family together with you to Australia, some students may find it useful to arrive first, settle into studies, find appropriate accommodation, adjust to living in Australia and then arrange for their family to join them.

Before making a decision to bring your family to Australia it is important to consider the following issues:

- The cost of airfares for your family to and from Australia;
- Possible higher rent for a larger home;
- Limited employment opportunities for your spouse;
- Extra costs for food, clothing and other necessities;
- The effect on you and your studies if your family is not happy in Australia;
- Whether your children will adjust to school in Australia;
- Waiting lists for child care centres; and

- Whether to come alone to Australia first and arrange things for your family or to all come at the same time.

Child Care

Finding suitable childcare in Australia requires patience and planning. Waiting lists for places in most childcare centres are long.

Many schools offer before- and after-school care programs (usually 7:30am-8:45am and 3:30pm-6:00pm). Children who need these programs must be registered with the school.

Schools:

If you would like to bring your children to Australia with you, you must be aware of the following schooling issues:

1. Fees will be charged and can vary from school to school depending on if it is a State or Private School and the location.
2. It is an immigration policy that school-age dependants of international students undertake formal schooling while they are in Australia.
3. You will need to provisionally enrol your child in a school before you leave your home country and you will normally have to pay the school fees one semester in advance. The school will issue an electronic Confirmation of Enrolment Form (eCoE) stating the program and its duration, so that you can obtain the appropriate visa for your child.
4. The Diplomatic Mission in your country can tell you which State schools are registered to take international students. Fees are usually payable by international students at all State schools.
5. You will be responsible for the school fees and other costs including school uniforms, books, excursions and stationery.
6. When choosing the most appropriate school for your child, it is best to ask questions about the school's curriculum, size, extra-curricular activities and the size of individual classes.
7. You should also take into consideration the distance from the school to your education institution, the suburb in which you intend to live and the method of transport you plan to use.

Agents

Migration Agents

A migration agent can assist you in submitting your visa application and communicate with DHA on your behalf, but please note that you do not need to use a migration agent to lodge any kind of visa application.

Education Agents

Education agents promote various Australian education programs and institutions internationally and are a convenient way for students to apply to study in Australia. Agents are experienced in assisting with international student applications and applying for visas. Most speak both English and the local language, so this makes the application process a lot simpler and generally hassle free for students and parents. Most do not charge for their service as they collect a commission from the college you choose to attend. However, some agents do charge small amounts or offer additional services for which they charge. You can check our website to see a current list of agents we recommend.

Students can enrol directly to the college with no agent.

- Students onshore are eligible to apply for a student visa before the visa they have entered on expires. For more details contact DHA.

Please Note: Although able to assist in completing education and visa applications, Education Agents are NOT licensed to provide migration advice.

Satisfactory Attendance

International students studying ELICOS of Dalton College are required to maintain a fulltime study load as a core student visa condition. The attendance of ELICOS students is monitored by Dalton College. Full time study means 20 hours face to face study per week.

Where a student is deemed at risk below the required 80% attendance threshold, Dalton College will counsel and provide support to prevent an unsatisfactory attendance record.

Refer to our full Attendance Policy and Procedure.

ATTENDANCE ELICOS STUDENTS:

To satisfactorily pass your course it is expected you will attend 100% of your classes, unless you are unwell, or you have other compassionate or compelling reasons to not attend.

Student Orientation Handbook

All colleges in Australia are required to have class rolls to ensure all students are attending as part of our duty of care and general student safety. It is also a requirement of a student visa that you attend full time study (20 hours per week), therefore colleges must be able to prove this to government officials. If it is found you are not attending regular classes as required by your visa, by the government you risk your visa being cancelled.

Attendance Reporting Status	RTO Action (For EAL and ELICOS Students Only)
When a student has missed 5 or more consecutive days of classes without prior approval	The student will be immediately contacted by phone/email to gain an explanation and inform them of the need to attend classes and the effect on their projected attendance if they do not attend. If contact by phone is not successful, the Administration Manager is to be informed and shall attempt to identify the student's current contact details. Where the student is not able to be contacted by phone/email, 'Student Attendance 1st Warning Letter' is to be sent to their last known address.
When a student's projected attendance falls below 90%	The student is to be sent a 'Student Attendance 1st Warning Letter' informing them of their projected attendance and the need to ensure they maintain a minimum of 80% attendance for the course duration (total contact hours). This letter is to also contain the consequences of not achieving a projected attendance of 80%.
When a student's projected attendance falls below 85%	When a student's projected attendance is below 85% the student shall be sent a 'Student Attendance 2nd Warning Letter'. This communication will indicate the student is required to organise an appointment with the Academic Manager to discuss their poor attendance record and any intervention strategies to ensure they stay above 80% for course duration (total scheduled contact hours). If the student does not respond within 5 business days, Student Administration will attempt to contact the student and action the student enrolment status as required.

When a student's projected attendance falls below 80%

The student shall be sent a 'Student Attendance Breach Recorded Letter' letter indicating the student has breached the attendance requirements. This letter will also identify the student is going to be reported to the appropriate government agency(s) for unsatisfactory attendance of their course of study. They will also be informed of their ability to access the 'Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure' and that they have 20 business days to access this process.

If the student does not access the complaints and appeals process within 20 business days, the student's enrolment status is to be updated on PRISMS. The student is also to be sent a 'Student Attendance Breach Reported Letter' notifying the student of the action taken.

Reporting 'Breach of Student Attendance'

As identified above, when a student's attendance falls below 80%, and has no supporting reasons, the student must be reported to the appropriate government agency(s) via PRISMS for a breach of their Visa condition.

This process of reporting breaches into PRISMS is the responsibility of the Administration Manager who will monitor the recorded breach and report the breach as required. A copy of all letters, details of phone calls made, and reports are to be maintained in the individual student file.

(For detailed information, please refer to International Student Attendance Policy and Procedure)

Academic Progress

International students of Dalton College are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress as part of their student visa condition. This progress is carefully monitored by Dalton College. A student must maintain a 50% satisfactory mark cover two consecutive terms in a course. Any support and guidance will be given where the academic progress requirement has not been achieved.

Any student identified as at risk of not passing their course will be offered assistance. Students are also encouraged to ask for help at any time.

Every Five (5) weeks the Administration Manager will review the satisfactory course progress of all students.

The Student Support Officer (SSO) shall issue Unsatisfactory Course Progress Notification Letter indicating to the student that they have fallen below 50% academic performance for the term to date, and failure to achieve Competency in further units undertaken within the current term may result in a risk of failing to achieve satisfactory course progress for the term. The letter shall remind the student that failing to achieve this satisfactory course progress in two consecutive terms will be deemed to be in breach of Student Visa requirements and will be reported to the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) via PRISMS. The student is to be given the opportunity to be counselled to improve their academic progress. If student fails to improve their academic progress after the completion of the term, an intervention strategy will be instigated.

When a student's projected satisfactory course progress falls below 50% for a completed single term, the SSO shall issue a '1st Warning Letter'. This letter will indicate that the student must contact Dalton College to organise an appointment with Academic Manager to discuss their poor academic performance and develop strategies or plan to ensure that they stay above the 50% academic progress requirement for the following Term.

The intervention strategy is instigated at this stage. At the meeting, the student is to be informed of their progress requirements and an individualised intervention plan for support is to be set in place for the student. Refer to the 'Intervention & Extending Course Duration Policy & Procedure'.

In all cases where the student does not respond to written communication within 5 working days, the Administration Manager will attempt to contact the student via telephone. If contact is still not made, then the Administration Manager will inform the Compliance Manager and CEO, and gain approval to issue a breach recorded letter or take appropriate action in regards with student's enrolment.

When a student's projected satisfactory course progress falls below 50% for 2 consecutive terms, the SSO shall issue a 'Breach Recorded' letter indicating that they have failed to be deemed Competent in more than 50% of units undertaken for two consecutive completed terms. The student is to be informed that because of their unsatisfactory course progress they are going to be reported to DHA for unsatisfactory satisfactory course progress in their course of study.

The student will also be informed of their ability to access the complaints and appeals process to appeal this decision and have 20 business days to do so. If the student does not initiate an appeal or complaint process within 20 days, the report shall be submitted to DIBP via PRISMS.

(For detailed information, please refer to Monitoring Course Progress Policy and Procedure)

Overseas Student Transfer

Requests to transfer to Dalton College from another Training Provider

The following procedure is relevant to any student who applies for a course within RTO and is currently studying on-shore with another registered provider.

For this procedure to be completed the applicant must provide a copy of their Student Visa and appropriate student number (to look up PRISMS). Once this information is obtained the following steps are taken:

- i. Compliance Officer/Admission Officer accesses the student information via PRISMS. They are to ascertain if the length of studies completed in their current Principle course of study is greater than 6 months. They also use the copy of the student visa in the passport to ascertain what the principal course is and when they arrived in Australia.
- ii. In completing this process, they would print a copy of the PRISMS record and attach to the student application.
- iii. If they have completed more than 6 months of their principle course of study, the application process proceeds as for all offshore students.
- iv. Where a student has NOT completed 6 months of their principle course of study, they are asked to provide an appropriate letter of release in support of their application.
- v. To support the application, they can be provided with a Conditional Letter of Offer which clearly states that an offer of a place is contingent on their obtaining a letter of release.
Note: if they are in receipt of a Government scholarship, they should provide written support from that Government agreeing to the change, which will stand in lieu of any letter of release.

Student Orientation Handbook

- vi. If such a letter of release is received and the student has no outstanding fees to be paid to the prior college or other outstanding matters of concern, the application proceeds as for all offshore applicants.
- vii. If no satisfactory letter of release is obtained from such students, the application process is halted, and the student informed that they are unable to transfer at this time. They are welcome to re-activate their application when the 6-month period has passed.
- viii. Note that in the very rare circumstances where the original college or course has ceased to be registered, or sanctions have been placed on the original college by the Australian government which do not allow the student to continue with the course, no letter of release is required. Evidence of this occurrence would need to be placed in the student file.

Requests to transfer from Dalton College to another Training Provider

The following procedure is relevant to those students wishing to transfer to another education provider prior to completing six (6) months of their principle course of study.

- i. Students make a written request on (Application to Defer, Suspend, Cancel Enrolment and Release Letter) to Admission Officer to transfer to another provider. The only reason a 'release letter' shall be issued if:
 - RTO has cancelled/ceased to offer your program (letter from RTO should be supplied)
 - Government sponsor considers the change to be in your best interest, if you are a sponsored student (written confirmation from sponsor required)
 - Exceptional circumstances (documentation required to support circumstances and a letter of offer from another provider is required.)
- ii. The student is asked to provide a valid 'offer of enrolment' from the new provider authenticating the transfer and the student is able to provide a letter from the new provider indicating the benefits of transferring from their current course of study.
- iii. In assessing the application to transfer, the Compliance Officer/CEO will check the following points:
 - Ensure any outstanding fees are paid
 - Ensure the student is fully aware of all issues relating to the transferring of providers.
 - Check student records to ensure the student is not trying to avoid being reported to DHA due to lack of course progress or poor attendance records.
- iv. Once the Compliance Officer/CEO has addressed the above points, a Letter of Release within first 6 months will be granted at no charge to the student. The student will also be advised of the need to contact DHA and obtain a new visa if the course they transfer to is not a Higher Education / VET course. Any issues will be reported to the CEO.
- v. The Admission Officer must report the student's termination of studies via PRISMS

Student Orientation Handbook

- vi. If the letter of release is not granted then a proforma letter is to be send to the student informing that student that he or she has been unsuccessful and the reason why, and further advising the student of his or her appeal rights.
- vii. All information relating to the transfer application is to be maintained on the student file for 2 years.
- viii. Admission Officer will notify students of the outcome of their request within 10 working days after receiving a complete and fully documented request for release application.
- ix. All requests, considerations, decisions and copies of letters of release should be placed on student's file.
- x. The approval of transfer of a student to another college does not indicate the agreement to provide any refund. Refunds are governed by the refund policy independent of this policy.
- xi. The Letter of release of student will be provided at no cost to student.
(For detailed information, please refer to Assessing Student Transfer Request Policy and Procedure)
